

Soyer India IN-5000T : Putting the bliss back into cooking

For all those whose joy comes from cooking, here's one more reason to stay in the kitchen. The latest in a range of induction cookers from Soyer India, the IN 5000T makes cooking that new recipe as exciting a prospect as tasting it.

First up, eight different power settings generating as many temperature levels breathe a sense of convenience into your act of cooking. Keeping in mind the environment, the 'power watch' displays the amount of power consumed. In the absence of a vessel, the 'auto shutoff' feature ensures there is no power wastage. And the x-factor of induction technology, no exhaust gas, which means the IN 5000T does more for the environment than any gas stove.

If you've had a history of overcooking your fare, this might well remain history after the IN 5000T as it comes with a visual and audible alarm system. Equipped with feather touch controls for easy handling, there is also a child protection keypad lock facility. Being around a cooking appliance has never been safer.

The full-polished crystal glass top with touch sensor control gives the induction cooker a modern look. The Micro Crystal plate surface is super heat resistant and resistant to de-coloration. Along with the stainless steel pot that comes as an add-on, the cooker supports iron pots, kettles and pans. It also has a pure copper coil which helps in increasing the life of induction cooker.

With a number of features especially designed for Indian cooking, the IN 5000T is your best cooking partner. Priced at just Rs 3,990, this induction cooker is a must have for any modern kitchen.
